PRESENTATION OF SPEAKER

The Honorable Kraig Paulsen was escorted to the Speaker's station and Acting Chief Clerk Carmine Boal administered the oath of office. Temporary Speaker Cownie presented Speaker Paulsen with the gavel and congratulated him on his unanimous election.

Speaker Paulsen thanked the House for the honor bestowed upon him and offered the following remarks:

REMARKS BY SPEAKER

Friends, family, representatives – welcome to the 86th General Assembly.

I'd like to take a moment to recognize all of the family members in the chamber today, particularly my wife Cathy. Our families are our biggest supporters and make the most sacrifices in our service to Iowans. Thank you for your constant strength and encouragement.

I'd also like to recognize that as we convene today we are missing one of our own. Please keep Rep. Dwayne Alons' family in your prayers and let's remember his commitment to Iowans and the fervor in which he worked to move our state forward.

As we sit, joined together in the people's house, I'd like to issue a simple, straightforward challenge to you. While others bring forward their laundry list of funding opportunities, spending priorities, or flashy government programs -- I challenge this General Assembly to ensure that government do less and do it better.

Government continues to meddle in Iowans' lives and seems incapable of doing even the smallest jobs correctly -- today we must meet the challenge of stopping this intrusion. Just like you, I have been contacted by various interest groups, lobbyists and even government agencies regarding how much MORE money they need to keep doing what they are currently doing. Do we ever stop to ask, do we really need government doing this activity? Government could do better if it wasn't trying to do too much. What if we asked government to do less but do it much better?

DO LESS

The revenue forecast says we will have an additional $200 million to spend in Fiscal Year 2016. If we cannot fund Iowans' priorities with an additional $200 million then that means two things: we have too many priorities and we have a spending problem, not a revenue problem.

Instead of more programs and endless expenses, let's ask government to do less. Let's instead create opportunities to make family life more affordable, upward mobility more likely and employment easier to find. We need to ensure the programs currently on the books are doing consequential things that improve Iowans' lives and are worth the taxpayers' investment.

Rep. Pettengill -- you and your Rules committee have led the charge in removing barriers for Iowans' when it comes to the rulemaking process. I want to encourage you and your team to continue this vital work on behalf of the legislative branch, ensuring the intent of the laws we pass is followed and onerous rules that hamper growth in our state are identified and removed.

DO IT WELL

While we want government to do less, we also want it to do much better. We can all agree that one area government needs to do better is in the building of our new state prison. Not only has the opening of the prison been delayed for several months, there still is no move in date set. The taxpayers of Iowa paid for this new facility, it is up to us to oversee their money is being spent appropriately. Rep. Kaufmann -- I'd like you and your Government Oversight committee to investigate this issue.

Four years ago, Iowa faced a $900 million budget shortfall. Now as the 2015 session begins, Iowa is spending just 94 percent of what our outdated expenditure limitation law allows, our budget reserves remain full and the ending balance is over $700 million.

Iowans work hard to earn their money, so they, not us, can invest it for retirement, spend it on necessities and save it for priorities that they deem important. Let's make sure government operates well in what we've asked it to do. Rep. Soderberg -- your appropriations committee has done diligent work in the past to spend tax dollars wisely. I'd like you to once again ensure budgets passed in the House stay true to these four principles. The budget must:

- Not spend more money than the state takes in.
- Not use one-time money to pay for on-going expenses.
- Not intentionally underfund entitlement programs to balance the state's budget.
- Return unused tax dollars to Iowa's taxpayers.

I believe one area that government has been making a significant difference for Iowans is in the Skilled Worker Initiative. When we look back 10 years from now, I believe we will recognize that effort as one of the most consequential things we have done to improve the lives of Iowans. Rep. Hanusa and Rep. Jorgensen— please continue the work in your committees to allow Iowans to obtain the skills needed in order to make that upward mobility possible and for families to prosper.

I am hopeful that once again we can find resolution on leaving more money back in the hardworking Iowa taxpayers' pocketbooks. Not only have we begun to return money back to the Iowa taxpayer through the Taxpayer Trust Fund, as of January 1st, Iowa no longer taxes the social security benefits of our citizens.

You see, back in 2006, a Republican House, a split-control Senate and Democratic governor came together to enact a plan that eliminated the state tax on social security. It was overwhelmingly bipartisan and is proof that when we commit to working on lowering the taxpayers' burden we can have a significant effect. We can give Iowans more financial security and the sky will not come crashing down. Rep. Sands – I'd like you to continue your efforts in finding pragmatic ways to let Iowans keep more of their hard-earned tax dollars.

Over the course of the 2014 elections it became clear that trust in large institutions, like government, was not just waning, it was plummeting. Like most Americans, Iowans believed their state and local governments functioned better than those in Washington, DC.

How do we live up to those expectations?

First, if we are truly going to be different then we need to act differently. Passing one more government program without examining the multitude of programs which already exist is more of the same. Passing another tax credit without examining the millions of dollars already invested in tax credits is more of the same. Putting even more money into education while test scores and other measurements continue to decline is more of the same. Offering up solutions to problems that have already been solved is pandering and more of the same. We need to identify and solve problems differently.

Second, Iowans' priorities need to be our priorities. Iowans want their government more efficient and they want us to be serious about protecting every tax dollar. They don't want more obstacles and more government intrusion into their lives. Most simply want to be left alone to raise their families and enjoy their communities. So we need to continue to spend less than we take in, continue to pay off debt and focus investments on key areas with broad support.

Third, we need to work with each other. Blustering, ranting and drawing lines in the sand accomplishes very little. We must not be afraid to work with people with whom we disagree. Iowans don't want us to fight the same tired battles that ultimately end in a stalemate; instead they want results. We have shown that we can accomplish this, without compromising our core principles.

Lastly, every year in my opening day speech I offer a gentle reminder that the desks we sit in do not belong to us – instead they belong to the 30,000 Iowans we each represent back home. The people who send us here expect us to do our jobs, just like they do every day. Iowans want government to do less but do it better. Now, let's get to work.

Ladies and gentlemen of the 86th General Assembly, thank you for bestowing on me the honor to serve as Speaker Pro Tem. It is truly an honor and a privilege to serve with all of you. I would like to thank my constituents back home for choosing me to be their voice in this august body. I would also like to thank my family, especially my wife Ivelisse, and our daughters, for all the sacrifices they make to accommodate my service to the people of Iowa.

We each have different priorities our constituents sent us here to focus on. As Speaker Pro Tem, I look forward to working with each and every one of you to accomplish many of those priorities in a bipartisan fashion. There are times we may not agree on the best path forward, but we all have a similar interest at heart, to do what is right by the people of Iowa.

As we open the doors on this new General Assembly, let us remember that our time in this chamber is finite and the seats in which we sit are borrowed. Iowans expect us to do our work in a timely fashion and in a bipartisan way. Let us all keep open minds to new ideas, and be willing to listen to diverse opinions.

With each new session come new challenges and new opportunities. It is my sincere hope that when the books are closed on the 86th General Assembly we can look back with pride on the accomplishments we made on behalf of Iowans. Let us work together to make Iowa the best place to live; where taxes are low, jobs are abundant, education is top of the line, innocent life is protected and Second Amendment rights are fully embraced.

I pray that God guide us in all the work that lies ahead and show us the correct path to prosperity. God Bless you all!

Now let's get down to business fulfilling the will of Iowans!

Representative Smith offered the following remarks:

REMARKS BY MINORITY LEADER

Good morning Mr. Speaker. Good morning distinguished members of the Iowa House. Let me welcome the new members of this body and welcome back all of you who have served before.

First, let me say I'm humbled to be leader of the House Democratic Caucus again this year. I'm proud to lead the most diverse caucus in the State Capitol that is a true reflection of the people of Iowa. We have five minority members and a record 49% of our caucus are women this year, the highest we've ever had.

One cannot gather in this beautiful room without having a sense of history. From 1857 on, people elected to represent their neighbors and community have traveled to Des Moines to participate in this great legislative body. At the desk we sit, representatives have risen to debate issues that affect the well-being of Iowa's people. The people who sat at our desk before us had their time and their moments. Today is our time and our moment. The challenge before us is always whether or not we will move our great state forward and whether the decisions we make will positively impact the well-being of Iowans.

The author, Willa Cather, once mused that winter was a time for the fields to lay fallow, for good books, and for long naps. I've often wondered what she would have thought about the Iowa Legislature coming together and disrupting those three things.

She also said that "some things are learned in the calm and others are learned in the storm." We begin each legislative session in the calm and know that there will be stormy periods as we debate and wrestle with the issues before us.

This is the American way and more importantly it is the Iowa way: to ensure that issues are vetted, unintended consequences are exposed, and that the two-party system works to make a better Iowa.

Mr. Speaker, in the 2015 legislative session, it is my commitment to you that Democrats will work together with you to pass legislation in earnest if it answers "yes" to the following question:

Will it strengthen Iowa's middle class or re-vitalize rural Iowa?

Those are the two key priorities of Democrats this year and they also happen to be the most important for the future of our great state.

We know the foundation of our economy is a strong middle class.

It starts with a good education that develops the skilled workforce we need to compete with workers from around the globe and bring good jobs to our state. We should expand the skilled worker initiative we passed a few years ago with tuition grants for students at Iowa community colleges and keep higher education affordable for all Iowa families.

We should expand early childhood education this year to make sure children enter kindergarten ready to learn. It's also essential that we don't short change our K-12 schools next year and leave them without the tools necessary to boost student achievement.

The middle class will thrive if we can encourage new partnerships between educators and our local businesses that will create hands-on learning opportunities to better prepare students for future jobs and keep young people in Iowa.

We can also help more Iowans reach the middle class by raising the minimum wage for over 300,000 Iowans. Just a few days ago, 21 states – including our neighbors in South Dakota and Nebraska -- raised the minimum wage for over 3 million workers across the country. The last time this chamber passed the minimum wage was 2007 and it passed with 79 votes. It's time for us to do it again this year.

Over the last 50 years, many rural communities have experienced a significant decline in population. House Democrats believe there is more the state must do to stop the decline and capitalize on the strengths of rural communities.

Our ideas to re-vitalize rural Iowa this year aren't based on partisanship or ideology. They are common sense ideas that will benefit rural communities across the state.

To grow our agricultural economy, we'll work to encourage more production and use of renewable energy like wind, solar, and biofuels. It's an industry that already employs thousands of Iowans and adds value to the crops and land of our farmers.

In hundreds of small towns across Iowa, schools are still a great source of pride and build a sense of community. Our job here in the Legislature is to make sure every child gets a great education, regardless of where they live.

We should also pass a bill this year to expand access to broadband and WI-FI for homes, schools, and businesses in under-served and un-served areas. If we do this correctly, it will serve Iowans for generations to come. My caucus also firmly believes we need to take additional steps this year to improve water quality and expand Iowa's Nutrient Reduction Strategy.

Iowans living in rural areas also deserve access to quality, affordable health care, including mental health services.

If this body can work together this year and focus our efforts on a strong middle class and vibrant rural economy, we'll be able to call the 2015 a success.

In conclusion, Mr. Speaker, I acknowledge that the voters selected a bipartisan approach to legislation this year with a Democratic led Senate and a Republican led House. Compromise and working together will be to our credit. Once again, a quote from Willa Cather comes to mind: "winter lies too long," she said, "and hangs on until it is stale and shabby, old and sullen."

Mr. Speaker, let us begin and end our work before it lies too long or hangs on until it is stale and shabby. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Representative Upmeyer offered the following remarks:

REMARKS BY MAJORITY LEADER

Thank you Mr. Speaker,

Ladies and Gentlemen of the House, our families and guests here today, and to all Iowans listening and watching online, welcome to the 86th General Assembly of the Iowa House of Representatives.

I am honored to be sworn in today with such an amazing group of people. Take a look around the room. The variety of expertise and experience here is impressive.

You bring with you a wealth of perspective that will enrich the work we do here. Thank you for offering your time and talent to serve. Thank you to your families and friends for their support and helping make it possible for you to be here.

I want to thank my family for their patience and their sacrifice. I could not do this without your help and understanding.

To the great people of Butler, Franklin, and Cerro Gordo counties, thank you for this opportunity. I share your pride for our area and will always be mindful that while I am the occupant of this desk, you are the owner.

It is a privilege to return as the Majority Leader of the Iowa House. I want to thank my fellow Republicans for entrusting me with this responsibility. I admire your commitment to finding solutions and working together for the benefit of Iowa. I am proud to join you in continuing that work.

The task at hand is a challenging one. First and foremost we have a responsibility to craft a responsible budget. Fortunately the Iowa economy continues to grow. According to the December meeting of the Revenue Estimating Conference, we will have an additional $200 million in revenue growth available this year.

Continuing growth of the Iowa economy during a time when there is such pressure on the agriculture industry is something we should all be thankful for. There are reasons for concern though.

Consider just the costs associated with Medicaid. Today, we expect year-over-year costs for Medicaid to increase $206 million. That is a 7.6% increase at a time when revenue is growing at 4.9%.

Taking a more long-term review highlights the severity of the problem. Over the last ten years, the general fund has grown at an annual rate of 4.1%. Meanwhile, Medicaid has grown at an annual rate of 11.7% for a staggering total of 170% growth.

This is not sustainable. Each year Medicaid's piece of the budget increases and it takes away our opportunities to put resources into other initiatives. We are well on our way to being forced to choose between providing medical services or education for our kids.

Providing tax relief to the hardworking people of Iowa is a priority for many of us in this chamber. I know many of you share my interest in investing in a world-class education system and increasing access to job training. Maybe you want to invest more into infrastructure, school choice, or renewable energy.

These are the kinds of choices that begin to be taken away from our constituents and us when we have an inflexible federal program whose growth outpaces revenue. But challenges present opportunities.

We need to find ways to be more efficient and effective with the resources we have. We need to review our procedures for documentation, waivers, and grant applications.

We need to focus on processes that eliminate fraud and tear down silos. This will allow the administration of services to be as efficient as possible so that more of the resources dedicated to those in need get there.

I continue to believe that if we are going to be successful, we need to insulate ourselves from the inflexibility and inefficiency of federal obligations. Medicaid is the example I have highlighted today, but it permeates many of the programs and policies we will address this year.

We should not be restrained from what we do best, finding Iowa based solutions for Iowa needs.

Remember the federal government does not display the discipline we do here in Iowa. They do not follow our budgeting principles. They recklessly spend without regard for Iowans' desire to live within our means. This is a dangerous partnership, and if we are not vigilant it could bankrupt both of us.

This General Assembly has the opportunity to accomplish great things that will have a longstanding impact on the future of the great state of Iowa.

We will consider many pieces of legislation over the course of the next several months. You will each contribute to the process with the expertise and experience you bring with you.

The vast majority of the bills that we debate will receive a consensus of support bearing the fingerprints of Democrats and Republicans. Urban legislators and rural legislators. Freshmen legislators... and Jack Drake and Dennis Cohoon.

Our best work is done when we come together to find solutions for the challenges our constituents face. That is the tradition of this chamber, this building, and this state.

Our opportunities are in front of us; let's get to work!

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.
